

We focus on your satisfaction,
and your customer's satisfaction.

Small mistakes can have a big impact on your business. Supply chain errors cost you money and customer confidence. SELDAT wants your business operations to be friction-free so you can focus on sales, so we run data-driven warehouse management systems to eliminate shipping errors. And because SMBs need to know the status of their customer activity minute for minute, all your shipping data is online so you know what's going on, when you want to know it.

Technology-enabled supply chain.

Online and in the warehouse, communicating with you, your customer, your clients, we make data easy, available and scalable. Our systems support items, serial and lot numbers without manual accounting. Pick and pack is barcode-driven and blind audited.

Our small-package shipping is web-integrated Purolator service with live shipment tracking.

National retailers demand EDI communications, but outsource companies make EDI unnecessarily costly and complex for SMBs. We can cost-effectively manage your retail supply chain communications and ensure compliance with order flow, purchasing/inventory, shipment confirmations with ASN (Advance Ship Notice) and invoicing on your company's behalf. And we can pull in your retail sell through data and provide you easy to customize reports.

Focus on sales and customers, not distribution problems.

Cost control and scaling to demand shouldn't be a contradiction for your business.

Growing companies are ambitious. But the challenge of managing product distribution on top of sourcing, sales, marketing and customer relationships are enough to derail the most ambitious companies.

That's why SELDAT specializes in distribution for dynamic small, medium and startup companies (SMBs) that want to reach retail and consumer channels. We are a friendly team of seasoned supply chain experts who've dealt with startups and Fortune 500 companies: we know the kinds of challenges you'll face in the Canadian market and we'll get you through them.

Scale and Dependability

Our distribution infrastructure is ready for national retail, small retail and internet fulfilment and we scale for those demands as needed:

- Online order and inventory management system
- Online warehouse management system
- On demand order processing with blind order audit
- Light assembly and kitting on demand

Cost Control

Worry about sales, not overhead. By outsourcing your supply chain to us your costs scale with sales. You can predict your costs without having to think about seasonal staffing and facilities: you don't have to keep upgrading your systems and infrastructure each time you grow.

Take advantage of our experience in supply chain cost controls and SELDAT's preferred carrier rates and relationships.
